Good morning Dennis,

Thank you for visiting Daniel Gale Sotheby's International on the North Fork and presenting your system to my agents. Your presentation was informative and subtly drew the audience in. Motivating agents to invest money and take charge of their business is no small feat. As you guided them through the system and showed them how channeling their time and efforts into actionable items will result in financial success you tapped a nerve that most entrepreneurs share, a need to succeed. Upon their return from the conference I am sure I will see increased production in both dollars and time management. I look forward to continuing to grow our businesses together.

Best,

Carol
